Real estate boom hits the Highlands

by John Greenwood

Lynn Craigmyle has a problem.

Real estate is booming - it has been since last spring - but Craigmyle, the Bowes and Cocks broker for Haliburton County, is short of listings (properties to sell).

"Property prices, especially lakefront cottages, have risen dramatically," he says, "as much as 40 per cent since 1985. A place on a lake that might have gone for $30,000 to $50,000 two years ago, now sells for $50,000 to $70,000."

If he had listings to offer the Toronto customers who've been flooding into his office since last spring, he'd be a happy man.

But he doesn't.

And that, after all, is what makes a real estate boom. Demand for property outstrips supply and prices go through the roof.

Craigmyle is in the same position as every other real estate broker in the county.

Norm Harrison, president of Haliburton Highlands Realty Limited (Re Max) and vice-president of Region 7 of the Ontario Real Estate Association, is equally frustrated. "It's very discouraging to a real estate salesman because there's just nothing to sell," he says. "It's a situation I hate to see."

Harrison explains that during the past winter, a season when sales in the business are traditionally down, his office was running full tilt.

Since last fall alone, he says, prices on lake cottages have risen 15 to 25 per cent.

No one knows exactly what's caused the sudden surge in demand. Roughly, it can be attributed to the ripple effect: the real estate market throughout southern Ontario, especially Toronto, is bullish. Sooner or later Haliburton was bound to feel the boom.

"Mortgage rates are also a factor," explains Craigmyle. "Today, they're down at 9 3/4 per cent, lower than they've been in ten years. As well, people feel positive about the way the economy is going in this province."

He points out that for many people in Toronto the only way to own property now is to rent an apartment in the city and buy a cottage lot. Lots in Haliburton County can still be had at the $70,000 range. "But city real estate is becoming prohibitive for younger people," says Craigmyle. "A mediocre house goes for $100,000 in Toronto now."

He explains that buyers in the current market come from all walks of life. Many are middle aged couples looking for a place to retire. Some are investors and of course a few - as in any market - are speculators.

Development

Bill Payne, owner of Bill Payne Real Estate, thinks most of those looking for property in Haliburton are honest buyers. "In the city," he says, "the housing market is manufactured to a large extent by speculators. They buy as much as 40 per cent of the properties there, so the market is artificially pushed up."

"But here it's different. Though there are developers buying property, they don't just turn it over. They're building."

And that is where some of the hottest activity in the real estate market is today. With such a shortage of cottage properties for sale, many buyers are choosing to purchase a package of land on a lake and build on it. Says Bill Payne: "I just sold a lot for $30,000 cash on the nail - and there was a three year period not long ago when I couldn't sell any bare lots."

It's safe to say that when someone buys a lot and builds a cottage, he's spending about $10,000 more than if he bought the same property with the cottage already built. The construction industry in the county is going full out. That's a measure of just how strong the present market is.

Another indication of market strength is the prices fetched by some of the better Haliburton properties. For the first time, some prime lakefront property is going at prices above the $100,000 mark, which, according to many in the business was a barrier they didn't think would be broken for many years.

"The determination to buy we're seeing is incredible," says Alf Wickens, manager of Case Real Estate. "Young couples don't bat an eye when they're quoted prices in the $80,000 range. And some people are just snapping up properties valued at $200,000."

"And though village and back lot prices aren't so dramatic, we're seeing a similar rise there as well. Just last winter, for instance, we sold our first $100,000 Minden property."

Over the last two years, Wickens says, village properties have risen considerably - not quite as much as the 60 to 70 per cent increase he's seen in lakefront properties, but healthy just the same.

Vacation properties are hot

Still, it's the lakefront properties that are attracting the most interest.

"I just don't believe the prices that some of these places are going for," says Bill Payne, who's also chairman of the Haliburton District Real Estate Board ethics committee.

He says that what's particularly unusual is that the properties are going for the prices they're listed at - and sometimes even more. "As soon as a place comes on the market, it's not uncommon to get three or four offers on the same day."

Nature delivered a surprise April Fool's joke last week as over a foot of snow blanketed the Highlands. The storm snarled traffic and sent residents scrambling for winter clothes and shovels. Carl Hamilton, manager of the Beckers Store in Minden, was one of many who rediscovered the art of snow removal.

Slick road blamed for mishap

A car-school bus collision at the corner of Bobcaygeon Road and MacKay Drive in Minden resulted in minimal damage, but disrupted traffic during the busy morning period Thursday.

No one was injured in the mishap.

According to the OPP, a bus driven by Dave Allison of Dysart Township, was turning on to MacKay Drive when it was struck in the side by a vehicle driven by Ed Moll of Minden. The Moll vehicle was eastbound and had difficulty stopping on the slippery pavement, a result of the spring snowstorms.

The bus was carrying 36 students.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $1700.

Man sentenced
Two Haliburton men have been sentenced to jail terms after being found guilty on charges of breach of probation.

Peter J. Austin 23, was sentenced to 60 days in jail on each of four counts, plus an additional 60 days on a charge of escaping custody. The sentences will be served consecutively.

Danny R. Griffin, 23, was also sentenced to 60 day terms, on two counts of breach of probation. His probation had concluded prior to the court appearance Wednesday in Minden Provincial Court.

Museum planning continues

Despite what appears to be a lack of interest by the general public, work on determining the feasibility of building a museum in Haliburton's Glebe Park to house the Kanawa International Canoe Museum collection is continuing, according to a spokesman for the local historical society.

A meeting called for March 29 to discuss the progress of the feasibility study plans, drew only two individuals, both members of the local press.

Last December, the historical society announced plans to raise money for a government study of the proposal. Frank Wallace, the historical society's president, said at the public meeting March 29 that the terms of reference for the study, called a master plan, have almost been worked out.

"We're working on the final draft of the terms of reference and we hope to submit it to the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture by April 3," Wallace said.

He said the master plan would take about three months to complete and should be finished - if the ministry agrees to it - by the middle of summer.

The estimated cost of the master plan is $50,000, but the ministry has agreed to contribute 75 per cent of that amount. That leaves the historical society with $12,500 to raise on its own which Wallace said is also proceeding well.

At this point it is not known how much a Glebe Park canoe museum would cost or to what extent the government would fund such a project.

However the historical society is optimistic that the ministry will do what it can to bring the museum about if the master plan proves positive.

One stumbling block yet to be overcome, Wallace admitted, is gaining ownership of the canoe collection. "We've been working hard at this for the past three years and the Kanawa board has indicated that the canoes will go to us if the museum goes through," he said.

The present owner of the collection, Kirk Wipper, has been looking for some time for a permanent home for his water craft because of personal financial problems and because the present museum building adjacent to Camp Kandalore in Stanhope Township is insufficient protection from the elements.

If Haliburton does get the collection, Wallace said, it would be of considerable benefit to both the community and the county. Besides attracting tourists it would also encourage canoe enthusiasts in Southern Ontario to make the area a base for their activities.

Man fined suspension. Fined was 22 year old Andreas Schollig.

The initial suspension was the result of a conviction for dangerous driving in York Region in 1986.

Man charged

A charge of theft has been laid against a 56 year old Haliburton man following an investigation by the OPP.

The charge was laid March 28. The man, Lorne Bailey, has also been charged with breach of probation. He is scheduled to appear in Provincial Court May 6.

The incident is being investigated by Constable Ben Manuge.

Dorset acid rain report

The following is a report of precipitation events recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset. The information was compiled by Environment Canada and covers the period March 22 to 28. (Note: This report has not appeared during the past few weeks as there has been no precipitation recorded at the testing station.)

- on March 25, 4 mm of rain, pH 4.1 from South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio and southern Ontario.
- on March 26, 3 mm of rain, pH 4.0, from Wisconsin, Michigan and central Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Thefts

Police are continuing investigations into a number of thefts in the county, reported during the past week. The following items are reported missing:

- taken from a number of cottages on Sandy Bay Road on the north end of Gull Lake: a Skil chainsaw; Duromark chainsaw; Remington chainsaw; Homelite chainsaw; 4.5 hp Evinrude outboard motor; Evinrude gas tank. The value of the missing goods is $2425.

- taken from a cottage on Eagle Lake: a Quasar television set.

- taken from a car at the Haliburton arena: a blue and grey Sony Walkman and a number of cassettes.

- taken from a doctor's office in Minden: a prescription pad.

- taken from a home in West Guilford: a boy's blue BMX bicycle.

Newest OPP recruit makes county history

Laura Hicks, a 21 year old native of Don Mills, is fulfilling a lifelong ambition and making history in Haliburton County.

Laura, more properly known as Provincial Constable Hicks, was just recently assigned to the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. She is the first woman constable to serve out of the county detachment.

As a new recruit, Laura was posted to the Minden office March 23 after a training period at the OPP academy in Brampton. Her first year on the force will include a great deal of training, much of it done on the job.

At the moment she is accompanying veteran OPP Constable Bill Clendenning her coach officer during the first portion of her time in Minden. Later she will be working with Constable Jim Solway. "Constable Clendenning is respected for his criminal work," Laura commented, "while P.C. Solway is an expert in traffic. Working with the two of them will give me an opportunity to experience both aspects of police work." The probationary period will last a year during which time she will spend some time at police college in Aylmer.

Since she is new to the area, and still a probationary constable, she will spend a great deal of her working time with the coach officers, watching how they carry out investigations and deal with various situations. As her experience grows, the variety of assignments will increase.

Constable Hicks has found the welcome to be warm in Minden both within and outside the detachment. "Everyone has been friendly and helpful," she commented. While the fact that she is the first female officer at the Minden detachment has not slipped by without a few good-natured jibes from fellow officers, she notes the comments seem to be more directed at her status as a new recruit. "Certainly, none have been malicious," she said.

Laura has always had an interest in police work and, after completing two years of sociological study at the University of Waterloo, she applied to a number of police forces in the province. She also had an opportunity to talk to a friend of her father, who is an officer with the OPP.

He convinced her that the provincial force provided the best opportunity for young recruits. This fact was borne out in response to her applications. "The OPP showed a real interest in me. They were very positive about my application, while the other forces almost made you feel that you were doing them a favour."

Constable Hicks is looking forward to her stay in Minden, noting that it will give her a well-rounded background in all aspects of police work. And, while obtaining that experience which will form the basis of her career in the OPP, she will also be carving out a small niche in the history of Haliburton County and the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

A welcome addition

Tonight, with the co-operation of the elements, a new Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, designed to serve the needs of Minden and area veterans should officially come into being. The charter night had to be postponed last Tuesday when a late winter storm created travel chaos for local participants and those coming from Toronto to oversee the ceremony.

While there may be those in the community who believe the branches in Haliburton, Kinmount or Cobocok can meet the needs of local veterans, we feel the important services offered through the organization are best provided at the local level. Canada's war veterans are aging. Their ability to travel easily may be diminished. Their needs for special service and assistance can become more pressing.

The Legion was first established to meet the needs of returning veterans. These individuals still provide the backbone for the Legion. However, with their numbers dwindling, the organization must turn to other members of the community, those who share its ideals, to ensure its continued growth. It will be easier for the Legion to attract these vital members with a branch established in this community.

In addition to the services to veterans, the Legion has traditionally provided leadership in community involvement. The Legion has been particularly active among the young and disadvantaged. Establishing a local branch here will enable greater emphasis to be placed on these services in the Minden area.

The introduction of the Legion to the Minden community is a positive step, one that should be welcomed by everyone. It will be a proud moment when the Minden branch receives its official sanction tonight. We certainly wish the fledgling organization well and continued growth in the years to come.

(The inaugural meeting of the Minden Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, has been scheduled for Monday evening at 8 p.m. at St. Paul's Anglican Church Hall.)

Loving our enemies, no question about it.

Dear Will - I am now 53 years old and live in Stanhope and if you would like I would like to talk to you and your friends at school. I was 6 years old in May 1940 and lived in a Dutch border town when Germany invaded Holland. It was 6 o'clock in the morning - a beautiful day - when we woke up to a terrible noise, it was the German army invading Holland. I had just one year before lost my oldest sister for the same reason as your Grandmother lost her brother. Not because it was war, but because our medical facilities were not good. In 1941 I lost my mother. She died because the Germans were using all our medical facilities. She bled to death. All through the war I was very disturbed. As kids we used to fill the gun barrels full of sand whenever we could or take nuts and bolts off wagons and rails or destroy many other things. I lost a few Jewish friends and some of us were killed by destroying things that belonged to the German army. I went to war myself in Korea - yes, I was 16 years old and my dad did give me the O.K. to sign up. At that point I was very bitter to anyone who opposed me. I was hit in the leg and came to Canada to recuperate. I still have nightmares sometimes, real bad ones. But there is a time to hate and a time to love. Now I can love a German or Chinese. You see it was not all Germany wanted war. I still cry sometimes and I also know there are Germans my age who do too. It is the ones who don't cry that wanted the war. I believe in love thy neighbour and we are lucky we live in a peaceful country. Canada and wherever the red and white Maple Leaf is flown people know we love peace. Many Canadian boys who are buried in my homeland have proven that.

There are many little Hitlers in this world of ours but as long as they are not supported, they are harmless. A good statesman once said "United we stand - Divided we fall."

Editor:

Taxpayers of Haliburton County should be alarmed with the recent decision of the Haliburton County Council. I am referring to the decision to not allow deputy reeves more time to look over the budget before being asked to give it their approval.

A $1.3 million budget is not something to look over in one hour while the council meeting continues, nor is it something to scrutinize over coffee break as reported to have been said by Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick. I question Mr. Vick's capabilities to comprehend a $1.3 million budget in the time and atmosphere of a coffee break. If this has been the tradition, it is not one about which to brag.

Having visited County Council on various occasions, it has been my observation that the two Deputy Reeves in question (Carol Puffer and Bern Berry) have been healthy additions to our County Council. They appear to:

a) consider research and homework an important ingredient of responsible decision making.

b) think independently,
c) communicate with superior intelligence.

Our Warden, Murray Fearrey, who seems also to possess these characteristics, should not consider the request by the deputy reeves a form of grandstanding. Grandstanding is what council members do when there is no merit or substance to what is being said.

It would seem to me that what is being requested has merit. Taxpayers do not expect their deputy reeves to give "blind" votes of confidence and trust. This is not a party system with a party whip ensuring that the party line is maintained. Many taxpayers might have more confidence in their deputy reeve than in their reeve.

The alternative is not to give the deputy reeves a vote when approving the budget. If the intellect of the deputy reeves is not needed when approving the budget, then, indeed, why is the sight of their raised hands needed during the vote?

Mr. Bill Howe, chairperson of the management committee, was quoted as saying, "I am prepared to stand here as long as necessary to explain this budget, but I will not back any delays in its passage." It is my suggestion that one can better understand an explanation if one has had the prior opportunity of familiarizing oneself with the material.

I do not feel, as has been suggested, that requesting a week to look over the proposed budget prior to its approval was a motion of non-confidence in the budget and management committee and would have undermined the system by which county council operates. A good budget can withstand scrutiny. One begins to wonder if the system by which county council operates needs to be improved.

A progressive council should be open minded and receptive to improvements in the system. Many of our reeves have been on council for many years. Many of our reeves have been on council for many years. Some might say "Too many years". Perhaps it is time that it was recognized that some of the "junior" members, specifically Carol Puffer and Bern Berry, have much to offer. Indeed, it is my opinion that they represent the kind of leadership that is needed. With councillors such as Puffer and Berry, supported by capable leaders such as Warden Fearrey, our county council could be a source of pride to the citizens of Haliburton County.

How responsible is our county council? How willing is it to recognize a misjudgement and chance its stance? How progressive will the council have been when the budget of 1988 surfaces?

Bernie Davis,
Minden.

Re: Ongoing Council games:

How much money does it take? C.H.A.C.E. is faced with a mammoth task if asked to take on the OMB for a zone change as the council would wish. What a slick way to pass on a problem!

This very council

permitted another very questionably zoned "Lumber supply outlet" to be built just last year. The area in question prohibits any outside storage and yet council feels inclined to be blind at the tremendous amount of lumber and partially built storage sheds that are stockpiled outside for spring sale. They didn't care that the zoning bylaw was stretched to the limit to permit building or that it is now not being complied with. The new bylaw would be coming soon.

When I went to council to get assurances that the outlet would comply with zoning, Mr. Nesbitt, Mr. Graham and Mr. Berry all agreed that they did not care about the zoning regulation because the "Lumber supply outlet" would be good for commerce in Minden and attract tourists and their dollars into the town. That was so important that it only took two council meetings to rubber stamp the idea.

And now, Mr. Nesbitt sweetly says, "Yes, we could twist the thing, (zoning restriction re: last week) but people who live there have rights too."

Well, it seems to be a matter of $$$ to me.

How much money does it take?

A lot more than the children of C.H.A.C.E have. Nancy Adamson, Minden.

Editor:

A number of people have asked me to present this letter to The Times. It is an address to Council by myself last Thursday evening (March 26).

Mr. Reeve and Council Members:

As the 40 year owner of the property of the proposed Day Care Centre, and owner of much of the property surrounding the proposed Day Care Centre, I feel it is my civic duty to express my views on the charge that a Day Care Centre will devalue property.

During my younger years on this property, my three neighbours and I raised 14 children and I always took pride in the fact, that to my knowledge, none of us, as parents, had one dispute over children. If you think that "22 children on a doorstep" is a large number, many of you here will recall seeing more like 42 children playing at my place -- with one difference, no money was involved; just good times and good memories.

No, Mr. Chairman, children have not changed; we have changed. We women support the moral values of equality for women. We support Day Care Centres for working mothers, and we advocate the stamping out of causes of battered women; oh yes, only until we are confronted with the vices of jealousy and greed, and then we forget all about our moral obligations to our community.

I do not believe that children devalue surrounding property, and for this reason, I have never objected to the paradoxical fact that one of the complainants, for many years, has continued to babysit many children, despite the fact that her property abuts much of my property.

Mr. Chairman, if a resolution should be passed to close the Day Centre on the unjustified basis that keeping children devalues adjacent property, then Minden is certainly taking a step backward in time. But, you must not discriminate Mr. Chairman, because Council will have no alternative but to close all unlicensed homes as well. Mabel Hewitt Brannigan Minden.

Another snow season is over and it seems appropriate at this time to express thanks to those people who have set the stage for a very successful snowmobiling season in Haliburton County.

Leroy Lichty and the executive of the HCSA devote untold hours of volunteer time to ensure that snowmobiling conditions are the best possible for the hundreds of trail users throughout the winter.

Tom Prentice and his crew of trail groomers deserve special mention too for their devotion to a job which is difficult, often frustrating, usually carried out in extremely cold temperatures and indeed sometimes dangerous. Thank you gentlemen -- your work is much appreciated.

Plans are already underway for the next year and these people need the continuing support of all those who are interested in snowmobiling and all of its benefits to our county.

Remember -- we have the largest club and the best club in the world. Let's keep it that way.

Watching for the signs

Some people watch for the first Robin to appear...others scan the marshy places along roadsides searching out pussy willows. For some it is the first green shoot to show itself, or the brave Crocus poking its colourful head through the bedraggled remnants of winter.

After the long and dreary season, we all have our personal, and often interesting, ways of predicting the arrival of spring. More often than not, we ignore the pronouncements of others who dare to declare they have seen the sign, their sign, and indeed spring has arrived. However, we know, deep inside, that until that special personal signal reveals itself to us, the change in the season has yet to occur.

jack's world

by editor & publisher Jack Brezina

That's why I can now report, unequivocally, despite the snow storm last week, spring is indeed here. Yes, shuck off your galoshes, (an interesting word in itself, derived from the French root, 'losh', literally translated as inebriated or drunk. Thus, someone wearing these large rubber overshoes, goes (ga) or walks like a drunkard), bury your woolies in the back of your underwear drawer and hang your gloves up for the season, (gloves should always be hung in pairs in a dark, dry area where they will not be disturbed until needed in October. Gloves left in drawers where they can be easily found next fall, can't, and besides, how would you like to be crammed into a stuffy drawer, without your mate for months at a time?)

You're possibly wondering how I can possibly claim to make this announcement, re spring, with such authority. Well, you see, my sign has shown itself. It is here and spring has officially sprung.

I've been diligently watching the intersection of Bobcaygeon Road North and MacKay Drive, the road that leads into Mackayville. It is here that I find my harbinger of printemps, as they say in Scotland. Surely you must have noticed it yourself, but then perhaps you don't realize the significance of its appearance.

I refer, some might add, finally, to the round post or pole which has once again bobbed to the surface of the road at that intersection and now projects several inches above the pavement. The post is, no doubt, some remnant of a fence that once patrolled that area, or perhaps it is the forever unseen section of a hydro pole, cut down in its youth when it was decided to bring civilization into the Mackayville plateau.

Whatever its origin, it has become over the years, a fascinating and welcome sign that spring has indeed arrived. There for all the school children to see from the safety of their bus windows, this round, somewhat gnarled head bravely thrusts itself above the pavement line, greeting all and sundry, and, as surely as the Robin or the Crocus, announcing that the seasons have changed.

One can only imagine the mystical process this symbol of renewal must follow. The mind boggles at the intricate chemistry which must percolate beneath the macadam-embarked mantle, lying dormant for so many months of the year, and then, with the grace of a curious groundhog, appearing proud, lifeless and round. My heart, as I'm sure hundreds of others across this municipality and elsewhere, soars at first sighting, often followed by a rude jolt from one of my vehicle's tires, as it meets to kiss the pudgy presence.

Ah spring, that magical time of rebirth and things that go bump in the road.

Show provides tourism exposure

- by John Eakins, MPP -

Another edition of the Toronto Sportsmen's Show has passed and I was very encouraged by the strong representation from Victoria-Haliburton.

We have a great deal to offer in our area, and I think the marketing efforts by many will result in greater numbers of tourists visiting Haliburton and Victoria Counties.

As I visited the various displays at the show, I was pleased to meet so many familiar faces at this important annual event.

And while I am on the topic of tourism, my Ministry's Destinations East program has been even more successful than I had hoped. The Ministry has received many applications from Victoria-Haliburton and I am pleased that so far I have been able to approve over 12 projects thus far.

On another note, my colleague, the Honourable Ben Grandmaitre, Minister of Municipal Affairs has asked me to remind you that daylight saving time has been extended by three weeks.

Finally, congratulations are in order for the organizers of the recent Ontario Curling Championships held in Minden. Organizing such an event requires a great deal of effort by many individuals to produce a total team effort. The committee is to be commended for their hard work and enthusiasm. I enjoyed attending the opening reception and meeting many of the participants.

from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

I believe that the most gratifying aspect of this year's Sportsmen's Show was the fact that so much was done by various participating chamber members. Everybody pitched in, volunteers put up and took down the booth, and helped to staff it. Shirley Rapson was there for the beginning and the end weekends, while various people manned it in between. This was a record show, with the place crowded day after day.

Our brochures did arrive on time, unfortunately there was an error in the accommodation listing. Allan Hall of Alcom Marketing attempted to correct this error by providing an insert, to be placed inside the brochure. The matter is still under discussion with Allan Hall but it appears as if that is the limit to which Alcom marketing will correct the situation. The chamber here is in a difficult situation in that we have no direct control or input over the summer guide at this time. The guide however, was popularly received at the show with several thousand being distributed and requests still coming in.

Shirley Rapson took the guides along with other material from lodges, travelling along with other tourist operators, to Buffalo, Syracuse and Rochester. This was a three day show aimed at meeting tour operators and booking agents in that target market.

After this show Shirley will be taking a three week, well deserved holiday and rest, before the onset of the busy summer season.

The Travel and Leisure Show begins on the tenth of April and goes on to the twelfth, with the Eaton Centre beginning on 20th and going to April 25th. If you would like to participate or find out more about these shows, please call either the chamber office, John Mateer at Hart Lodge or Joyce Waffle at Bonnie View.

Mike Maybee of the OPP called me the other day to remind me that on April 8 at 7:00 there is a seminar being given on credit card and cheque fraud. There will be representatives from the CIBC, Toronto-Dominion Bank and the Crown Attorney's Office. It will be in the ballroom at the PineStone Inn.

The seminar should go 2 to 2 1/2 hours in length. All businesses are urged to attend this important meeting. Please give Mike a call at the OPP office to ensure that you are able to obtain a seat. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants, and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Galway-Cavendish

We have examined the consolidated balance sheet of the Corporation of the Township of Galway-Cavendish as at December 31, 1986 and the consolidated statement of operations for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Township of Galway-Cavendish as at December 31, 1986 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting principles disclosed in note 1 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Seller's market leaves agents with little to offer buyers

There are two important results to that.

The first is that properties go quickly. Very quickly. In times of relative calm it took usually a month or more to close a deal. Now it takes as little as a single week.

"For buyers, it's a case of wait till a place comes up for sale and then just pick a number," says Craigmyle. "You just don't have time to hesitate."

The second result is that for the first time, county real estate agents are seeing bidding wars.

Common now in Toronto bidding wars happen when competitive buyers find themselves facing off against each other for a single property. That's when property values get jacked up beyond the listing price, when money paid for property is determined by individual bidders rather than the market.

It's a good deal for the seller and the agent of course, and for the buyer as well if he can at least get his money out if he chooses. After all, as every real estate agent can tell you, property prices may level off in the future - but they'll never go down.

Just the same, Payne thinks many of the prices being paid now aren't realistic. "A lot of the buyers are from Toronto and they aren't really aware of what the market is doing here," he says. "They think because it's hot in the city, then it's got to be hot here, which isn't necessarily true to the same extent."

Norm Harrison, the past president of the Haliburton District Real Estate Board is also concerned about what he's seeing.

He admits that being the agent in a bidding war can be very exciting - "you have to sort out the offers and at the same time, keep everyone happy" - but adds that buyers are put in a difficult position.

"People looking for a place just don't have time to think about what they're buying, because if they hesitate it'll be snapped up," he explains. "They don't get the chance to look the place over and consider whether it meets their needs."

Preferred lakes

"So what happens is people buy for location. They wait until a place on Gull or Boshkung Lake comes up - two of the more popular lakes - and they put their money down. Then they worry about whether it meets their needs."

Harrison calls it panic buying.

"What's more," says Payne, "people are spending money they'll never see." He explains that with low interest rates and new rules governing mortgages, some buyers are over-extending themselves in the hope that the rates will stay down. This is not likely to happen, he says.

Nevertheless, everyone agrees that property in Haliburton County is still a good deal. Every other area within commuting distance of the city - Muskoka, the Kawartha Lakes, Victoria County - is priced at the top of the market. Because it's on the outskirts of the boom area, Haliburton remains "affordable" as those in real estate say.

The boom will continue as long as demand remains ahead of supply. As to whether we've reached the peak yet, no one is quite sure. Most in the business are confident the boom will last well into the summer, and very likely beyond.

Though listings are few, real estate agents are having an exceptionally good year. Productivity has increased for everyone to the point that, says Payne, "If you didn't make money last year, then you should get out of the business."

As with any boom, it's a volatile situation. Those with the resources and the know-how will prosper. Those who don't are taking a big chance.

The last similar period of rising property prices and fast buying was in the early 1970's and before that it was the early 60's.

"I've been in the business since 1964 and this is about the third swirl of the market I've seen," says Payne. He points out that though booms attract some unqualified people into real estate, they're soon forced out when prices level off.

Harrison says the booms go in cycles. "Once every 15 or 20 years you get a market peak. And then prices go through a gradual slow-down which doesn't end until the next boom."

"You can calculate when they'll come. I've got a chart that was drawn up in the 1890's that predicts every boom we've had since then."

According to the chart, he explains, our next boom will be in about the year 2000.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

It's pleasant to see the snow shrinking to dirty mounds where drifts have been. Soon there will be the first coltsfoot and then spring beauties. But unfortunately wildflowers are not the only thing uncovered by the departing snow. The edges of favourite paths are filthy with people's leavings - plastic tops, plastic bags, bottles, gloves, tires, rusted bits of metal; the list is endless and bizarre. One can understand the lost mitt and long scarf beside what had been a good toboggan run; but what about the stove door and top elements in the ravine or the shopping carts halfway down impossible slopes?

No favourite wild haunt us free from such rubbish. Conspicuous among the rubbish will be the plastic bag in one of its many forms. People usually do reuse the plastic bags they get in the shops, but I hate to see one there among the spotted leaves of the trout lilies, half-buried in the black muck, because I know that it will always be there, undecaying in a world built on decomposing matter. Paper containers are often used wastefully, but at least one knows they will eventually return to the earth.

There are usually cans and bottles about; fewer cans now that some are returnable. But although the cans may be returned, the snap-up tops are generally tossed away without a thought. Curious birds often carry the shiny item away to hide. Unfortunately those that end up in lakes and streams sometimes have disastrous consequences. Remember the mallard drake who managed to get one firmly around his bill, and who defied all efforts to catch him and free him from his horrid seal. Other aquatic creatures are known to have suffered agonies from ingesting the rings. Next time, take that top out of the woods with your other garbage.

That old car battery half-buried in the creek mud represents the most disturbing kind of garbage that humans make. Lead and acid are leaching into the stream. And there are millions of discarded cell batteries, the kind you use in your radio and flashlight, littering the land, each a chemical stew. This is only one example of an item in common use which is treated carelessly and tossed out without a thought to add its toxic waste to our ground water.

Individually we feel powerless to stop the avalanche of chemicals which is entering our water supply. But we can give our support to groups who are trying to bring pressure on politicians to stiffen policing of large polluters and to insist on clean-up now, not in ten years when it may be too late. We are caught between a rock and a hard place. The infertile eggs of herring gulls in the Great Lakes and the deformed young of the cormorant are warnings. We are not separate from the other species; we share a common environment.

One thing we can be directly responsible for, thought, is our own garbage. We can take steps to cut our garbage by reusing containers and choosing biodegradable packaging. We can refuse to leave litter in our parks and woods and speak up if we see others doing it. Finally we can educate the next generation to behave a little better than we have. Clean-up starts small; it starts with each of us acting as we would like others to act.

Resort grading grant approved

A $10,000 Grading Assistance Loan has been approved by the Eastern Ontario Development Corporation for Beech View Cottage Resort Ltd., north of Minden, it was announced recently by John Eakins, Minister of Tourism and Recreation and MPP for Victoria-Haliburton, and Industry, Trade and Technology Minister Hugh P. O'Neil.

"The loan will be used to renovate and refurbish the cottages to maintain a 3 star rating," Mr. O'Neil said.

The Beech View Cottage Resort fronts on Beech Lake and offers year round housekeeping accommodations and recreational facilities.

Information on all EODC financial assistance programs is available from the corporation's Peterborough office at 139 George St. North, telephone 742-3490 or call the operator for the toll-free Zenith number in your area.

Season ends for Novices

The 1986-87 hockey season wrapped up in exciting fashion Sunday night for the Novice II's.

Playing the third game of a 2 out of 3 series with Fenelon Falls the boys played three periods and one overtime period ending in a 1-1 tie. This eliminated Minden on points. The games were 0-0, 1-0 for Fenelon and 1-1. Minden held a vast edge in the play but goals have eluded them. They lost to Bobcaygeon the same way and Bobcaygeon went on to sweep the championship series. The scoreboard does not always tell the story of a game and this certainly was the case with these boys. They were very seldom beat by more than one goal and they never quit. I have been proud to be associated with this team and especially want to thank the parents for their constant participation.

HCSA alerts board at annual meeting

The members of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association (HCSA) were told they are part of the largest organization of its kind in the world. Boasting a membership of 1850, those attending the annual meeting Saturday night were told no other snowmobile club in North America or anywhere else in the world, could claim to have a higher number of members.

The information was part of a number of reports offered to the membership by the association's directors. Mark Lester, who is in charge of public relations for the HCSA told the audience of more than 40 members that snowmobiling is responsible for an estimated $10 million in consumer spending annually in Haliburton County. He said that snowmobiling and cross-country skiing are the two main attractions area resorts can offer to encourage winter tourism. The organization spokesman predicted that the income realized from the sport could double in the next three to five years.

Lester said that the organization and snowmobiling had suffered from an "image problem" in the past but this is changing. He noted with the support of several county municipalities, the organization has been able to update its fleet of groomers thus providing better trails for the riders. He also noted the positive results of an article in a leading United States snow-mobiling magazine. "Poor snow conditions in the midwest and the article in the magazine brought in a large number of first-time snowmobilers. They liked what they saw and they'll likely be back," he told the audience.

He suggested the recent publicity had made Minden the snowmobiling capital of Canada.

The popularity of the HCSA trails was also demonstrated in figures provided by the membership chairman Norm Gemmell. He reported that in addition to new and renewal memberships, the HCSA, through various retailers in the county, issued 626 temporary seven day permits to visitors to the Highlands. This compares with 493 issued last year.

The task of trying to keep everyone heading in the right direction fell to the sign chairman, Peter Overington. He offered a brief description of the amount of work involved in marking the trails with appropriately coloured signs. He told the audience that the club was fortunate to have located, at a flea market, a supply of 30,000 of these signs. The organization bought them all at a price of about 2c each, far below the cost of purchasing them new.

Equipment manager and trail grooming foreman Tom Prentice reported on the year's activities and the cost of running the equipment for the season. He noted that expenses had increased over last year, a reflection of a busier season on the trails.

Organization president Leroy Lichty reported to the members that the effort to bring the province's two main snowmobiling organizations together is continuing. The Ontario Trail Builders Alliance, to which the HCSA belongs, and the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs have

Sr. Novices claim tri-county championship

On Saturday March 28, in the final game of a best 2 out of 3 series, the Minden Monarchs Senior Novices defeated Oakwood for the tri-county championship.

The first two games both ended in 1-1 ties guaranteeing this third game was going to be a battle from the opening face off.

It was.

The first period was fast and tight with each team's defence containing the other's offence, limiting the shots on net.

The Monarch's goalie, Justin Rowden, was put to the acid test midway through the first period on a breakaway by Oakwood. But in true NHL style, he stood his ground and made a great save.

The second period opened up as each team dug in resulting in more skirmishes around both nets. Good defensive work by Minden kept Oakwood at bay, but at the mid point in this second period, Minden made a hard drive to the Oakwood end and just didn't quit until at 4:59 Marty Dettman scored for the Monarchs.

The third period was again fast and furious as Oakwood tried to get on the scoreboard but to no avail.

Whether first year rookie or seasoned 'pro', each and every player of the Monarchs played as if their lives depended on winning this game.

They played all out hockey for their coaches, their parents, their fans, but mostly for their team mates and for the love of the sport.

The 1986-87 Tri-County Champions, The Minden

Annual Straw and Stone

The eleventh edition of the Annual Straw and Stone Bonspiel drew the usual bevy of interesting and entertaining costumed curlers on Saturday, March 26 at the Minden Curling rink. Among those taking part in the two day event were Michele Levesque and Chris Coneybeare, two members of the team which captured top honours for their costumes. Taking top honours in the 'spiel was the Bob Austin foursome with three wins and 36.25 points. Proudly holding their trophies, members of the rink include, from the left, Bob Austin, vice Dale Austin, second Doug Colbourne and lead John O'Toole. Placing second was the Bill Roodenburg rink with three wins and 36 points. Team members included vice Sharon Klages, second Herb Roodenburg and lead Mary-Jane Irwin. Third spot went to the Cheryl Murdoch foursome with Brent Murdoch vice, Ron Murdoch second and Heather Michie lead.

TURN YOUR GARDEN UPSIDE-DOWN WITH A HONDA TILLER.

The Honda F-501 tiller has all the deep-digging power you need to turn your garden upside-down.

A 5 hp, Honda GX series, four-stroke engine gives it the muscle to take on a heavy workload. Automatic compression release makes it easy to start. And a large capacity muffler helps it run quietly.

For added safety, there's an easy-to-reach ignition cut off switch, and a safety clutch that stops the tines when the clutch lever is released.

The F-501 also features handlebars that adjust to fit each individual operator comfortably. The C2 version also features 2 forward and 1 reverse speed.

If you need heavyweight help to turn your garden upside-down, come in and see us. We'll set you up with an been attempting to lobby the provincial government on behalf of the sport, often representing conflicting points of view.

The government response has been to tell the two organizations to provide a single approach to the problems facing the sport.

The efforts to bring the two groups together have been less than successful, although both sides are continuing the discussions. Lichty is one of ten OTBA directors in the province and has been involved with meetings with representatives of the other provincial body.

In closing, Lichty paid tribute to the members of the association's executive. He noted they provide many hours of volunteer time to ensure the HCSA remains a viable organization. He said that without the dedication demonstrated by these individuals, it is unlikely the HCSA could survive.

Before the meeting closed, the members elected a slate of directors who will choose the executive from among their own number. Serving for another year on the board of directors are: Leroy Lichty, Tom Prentice, Guard Campbell, Bob Clifford, Gord Darby, Norm Gemmell, Mark Lester, Peter Overington, Paul Prentice, Steve Berry, Barry Stewart, Bob Valentine, Steve Brand, Arnold Schroter, Gord Hamilton and Keith Schrader. Others selected as board members include Jim Hicks, Brian Watts, Ray Downs and Bill Park.

When the directors meet next Friday they will choose the officers for the coming year, a board of directors of 13, with the remaining members being appointed as directors at large.

Library search given another two months

Lutterworth council has given Glynne Lewis another two months to find a new building for the township library.

Council, which has been planning to close the library because of a lack of space, agreed last November to give Lewis until May 1, 1987 to find a new home for the facility. Lewis had protested that Lutterworth residents wanted the library to remain open.

However, the search for a new building has not been going well. At last Tuesday's council meeting, Lewis reported that another prospective building he had looked at had not met his requirements.

Council, agreed then to extend Lewis' deadline from May 1 to June 30. Lewis said he is still optimistic that he'll succeed in finding an appropriate building for the library.

Neighbourhood Watch still active in Minden

submitted

At a recent meeting of the leaders of Minden Neighbourhood Watch, it was decided to continue with the project and keep the Watch in action.

Some adjustments and replacement are required, but generally once everything is organized, all goes along smoothly and quietly.

A refresher meeting for all members plus any new residents in Minden will be held Tuesday, April 28 in the Municipal Council chambers. Please attend if your neighbourhood is not participating, you don't have too much protection.

Further notice will be forthcoming.

Grass Cutting and Trimming Tenders Are Invited for Minden Area's 5 Distribution Stations 1 Transformer Station

Interested parties are invited to submit on Ontario Hydro Forms "Invitation to Tender" their contract price for grass cutting and trimming at Distribution Stations and Transformer Station located in the Minden Operating Area.

Contractor will be responsible to supply his own material, equipment and transportation.

Work will consist of:

- (1) Cut and trim (4) Distribution Stations approximately 16 times.
- (2) Cut and trim 1 Distribution Station 2 times (once in spring, once in fall.)
- (3) Cut and trim 1 Transformer Station approximately 16 times.

Work to commence on or about May 7, 1987.

Tenders to be submitted by 4:00 p.m. April 21, 1987.

Tendering documents will be available April 8, 1987.

One tour of areas will be conducted on April 16, 1987 at 9:00 a.m.

Legion Ladies Auxiliary mark anniversary

At a dinner and ceremony at the Haliburton Legion March 28, the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 129 celebrated their organization's diamond jubilee.

More than 100 members and their families attended the celebration. After the 14 officers and executives of the auxiliary read and signed the Articles of Faith everyone sat down to hear the speeches and watch as awards were presented.

Teresa Achtenberg, the past president of the Ladies Auxiliary, Provincial Command, was the guest speaker.

After thanking branch president Jan Shipley for her introduction, Achtenberg complimented the members of the branch on their reading of the Articles of Faith.

"I haven't seen the Articles of Faith done more beautifully than they were here," she said. "And I've been to branches all across the province."

Achtenberg, who has been chosen as chairman of the diamond jubilee, said she is very pleased to hold the position.

"There are so many wonderful things the Legion has done," she said. "I don't have to tell you of the many projects you have completed for the betterment of your community."

"To me, there's no place finer to be than in the legion halls. Because in the legion, you don't ever have to worry about being looked after."

She concluded by wishing the auxiliary, "many more evenings such as this."

Present at the celebration to present some of the awards was Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott.

"The legion is the largest service organization in Canada," Scott said in a short speech. "All service clubs make Canada a better place to live - and you help a lot."

Letters of congratulation to the branch from the Prime Minister, Ontario Premier David Peterson, from Scott, from Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins and many others.

Awards were then presented to Rebecca Maclean (it was accepted by her daughter) and Hazel Walsh as the branch's newest members of its "over eighty club." Bill Scott did the honours.

Pins of recognition for longstanding commitment to the legion were then presented to: Greta Curry, Myrtle Davies, and Edith Day.

Gwen Cox, zone commander of the auxiliary was then presented with a life membership, the auxiliary's highest honour.

Diamond Jubilee medals went to 30 members. They were: Irene Higgins, Ruth Schell, Laura Bannon, Jane Johnson, Jean Marsh, Jan Shipley, Joyce Wood, Eileen Crarey, Verna McDonald, Vera Dean, Elsie Watson, Marjorie Peel, Joan Hobson, Greta Curry, Myrtle Davies, Edith Day, May Wylie, Eileen Morrison, Dorothy Iles, Verna Draper, Betty Wise, Freda Handy, Joyce Ross, Cathy Juby, Ann Pitman, Dorothy Stirritt, Wyona Consack, Chris Bishop, Rebecca McLean, Hazel Walsh.

Joyce Ross was the recipient of a treasurer's bar, Jane Johnston a first vice-president's bar, Ann Pitman an executive bar and medal and Catherine Juby an executive bar and medal as well.

Several year pins were also presented at the ceremony.

At the end of the ceremonies, Auxiliary president Jan Shipley presented legion branch president Joan Irish with a surprise cheque for $2000 toward the Legion expansion fund.

Proud and tall, these recipients of pins of recognition for long standing commitment to the Royal Canadian Legion after the presentation ceremony Saturday, March 28. From the left, front Greta Curry, Edith Day and Myrtle Davies. Behind, presenters Teresa Achtenberg, past president of the provincial command and third vice president Phyllis Montemiglio.

Voices of HHSS

Hi there! Due to circumstances beyond our control, we weren't able to bring you a column last week. You have likely heard why in other sections of the paper. But we're back with more news.

Last week the senior badminton team went to Lakefield to participate in a qualifying tournament. 7 out of 10 teams qualified to advance to the Kawartha tournament.

Also in badminton, the junior team went to Kenner to compete in the Kawartha qualifying tournament and had a successful day. There were too many winners to mention, but we will say that 6 teams out of 10 qualified to advance.

For the last two weeks, grades 9 and 10 have been participating in public speaking. Last Thursday and Friday were the Impromptu and Prepared Speech finals, respectively. Later on, we will have the results for you.

The S.A.C. is retiring and the school is looking for nominees to fill the positions of: President, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and social convener. The last members did a superb job and we hope that the ones who follow in their footsteps will be as successful. The nominations will be tallied by the nominating committee, as well as tabulated. Contact Mr. Lerpiniere in Room 8 before the closing date of April 16 (?).

On April 16, this year's spring prom will take place at the high school, beginning at 8:15 to about 1:00 a.m. Dress will be semi-formal (no jeans or sweatshirts), guys should wear ties and girls are supposed to dress accordingly. The band "The Device" will be playing and entertaining us with their music.

Training for track and field has begun, even though there is snow on the ground. It's hard to believe that the meet is only three weeks away! Maybe we'll have to run in snowshoes.

Until next time.
Remember: summer (hah!) isn't far away.
Misti Campbell, Heather Donaldson, Dianne Garbutt, Katy Beach.

Intended for last week

Hi there! A lot has happened since we've come back from holidays and it is a mixture of the good and the bad.

As many of you have read in the Toronto Star, along with The Times, the controversy over the Haliburton Redmen and the Fenelon Falcons hockey game on Friday, March 13 was resolved. On Wednesday March 25, the OFSAA committee in Peterborough ruled in favour of Fenelon to go on in the Provincial Playoffs in North Bay.

The incident and the result of the ruling itself are in the past, but the disappointed feelings that were felt at the loss still remain. We know that having won the game and then having to reverse the victory in such a way makes it harder to accept. The committee's decision is final and shall have to eventually be accepted by the student body, the team and the community. However, the success of the team is clearly apparent.

The combination of patriotism to the High School, good sportsmanship and the overwhelming support from within the school and community prove that the Redmen hockey team is a great success. We anticipate a good season next year and we want to congratulate the team, supporters and students.

Two weeks ago at LCVI, in badminton, Jodi McKnight placed first in junior girls singles and Lora Patton and Nikki Vachon were first in ladies doubles. Michele Harrison and Terri Legge were first in ladies senior doubles. Barry Scully and Lesley Tashlin were first in senior mixed doubles and Darren Whittaker and Greg Foran placed first in the senior men's finals. To top it off, the team won back the trophy for the school.

Last Friday, March 27, the group 'The Ugly

Rumour' played at the dance. An enjoyable time was had by all who attended.

Well, it's that time of year again... the time when students are overloaded with essays, tests, assignments and even some with the last of the speeches. Yes, it's April, when nervous breakdowns increase, final sniffles and coughs are an epidemic and lunch hours aren't spent wandering the halls as many do, but studying for the unquenchable load of tests. Very soon, if not already, teachers will begin to close the classroom curtains so we can concentrate better.

It is also the time when we begin to doubt whether school is worth this; we know deep down that it is for our future careers, but it is hard to put it into perspective. We wish that the teachers would even up the workload, for the pressure to succeed for our personal goals, the summer (of which the holidays begin in only 2 1/2 months) and graduation, is very real. So far, the hazy, muddy and typically dreary spring that we experience at the end of March seems to signify what lies ahead in the long, drawn-out month of April.

In closing, we would like to remind you of the Elim Hall and Level Heads concert in May. Contact Lora Patton and Andrea Burton at school for further details.

Seatbelts protect the unborn

This is the second in a series of five special releases issued to increase public awareness on the use of seat belts in reducing the severity of injuries in motor vehicle collisions.

This week's article focuses on seat belt usage by pregnant women.

Studies by several research groups, including the Ministry of Transportation and Communications in Ontario have shown the most frequent cause of death in car accidents for the unborn child is the death of the mother. Obviously, the best protection for the unborn child has to be in protecting the mother from death.

Pregnant women should always wear the lap and shoulder belt when riding or driving in a vehicle.

Positioning of the belt is important during a pregnancy. The lap belt must be worn low so that it pulls downward over the pelvic bones and not against the abdomen. It should be snug to stop the belt riding up into the abdomen area but not so snug as to be uncomfortable.

If an impact occurs, the thick pelvic and shoulder bone of the mother takes the impact of her body moving forward. The unborn child, naturally protected by the embryonic fluids, would suffer greater injury if the mother is not belted during a collision.

Medical doctors consulted on this press release clearly state the risk of injury to the unborn child by the mother wearing a seat belt assembly is relatively insignificant in comparison to the injuries caused by the woman being thrust forward into the steering wheel or dash board.

To show the overall significance in use of seat belts or injuries, an analysis of 1985 traffic collisions for drivers not belted and 5 deaths per 10,000 collisions for those occupants wearing seat belts.

As previously stated, the most common cause of death to the unborn child in motor vehicle collisions is the death of the mother. It can be inferred from these statistics that the best method to protect unborn child deaths is for the mother to wear the seat belt throughout the term of the pregnancy.

Monday, April 6, 1987

The Ontario Provincial Police presents this information to encourage voluntary compliance with Ontario's Seat Belt Laws. A seat belt will only save lives if it is properly fastened. To protect the unborn child the expectant mother should ensure her seat belt worn at all times.

Irondale Anglican church marks 100 years

One of the most striking features of Irondale is the white clapboard church.

Built in 1876 - it's 100 years old this year - St. John's Anglican Church was originally intended as an inter-denominational church, a place where anyone could worship.

In those days, Irondale was a large, thriving community. According to old records, the area was home to as many as 5000 people. As its name suggests, there was iron mining around Irondale as well as lumber mills and logging crews.

There was a man named Pusey who employed a lot of the men back then and he had a lot of money. One day Pusey decided his men and their families needed a church. That was how St. John's church came to be.

In the late 1880's there was a fire that wiped out many of the towns round about - like Furnace Falls, where the iron smelters were - and with the towns went much of the business.

But the fire didn't get as far as Irondale itself. That was when the population in the area began to decline. With less work, people began to move to where they could find jobs, to other parts of the province.

Those who remained kept up their church. And today, it looks as white and as fine as the day it was built.

The congregation of St. John's held a centennial celebration service Sunday.

The Irondale Anglican Church has been a part of that community for over one hundred years now. Members of the congregation marked the church's centenary recently with a special service of celebration.

Offer praise with care

by Faith Aggett

Praise can be both destructive and productive. The amount of praise, the sincerity of the praise and the manner in which praise is expressed are all factors which contribute to the child's sense of self.

Praise consists of two parts: What we say to the child and what he, in turn, says to himself. Our words should state what we like and appreciate about his efforts, help, work, and accomplishments. The child then draws conclusions about himself. When our statements describe the events and feelings realistically and appreciatively, the child's conclusions about himself are positive and productive.

To be himself, one needs to be free from the pressure of evaluative praise. Praise, like a drug may make a child feel good - for the moment. However, it creates dependence. Others become his source of approval. He relies on them to quench his craving and establish his value. They must tell him his daily worth.

Judgemental or evaluative praise should therefore be avoided because it is not helpful. It creates anxiety, invites dependency and evokes defensiveness. It is not conducive to self-reliance, self-direction and self-control. Only praise that does not judge, the child's character or evaluate his personality makes it safe for him to err without fear and to recover without anxiety. Productive praise recognizes a child's feelings and describes his performance.

In conclusion, productive praise describes a child's efforts and accomplishments and our feelings about them. It does not evaluate personality or judge character. The cardinal rule in praising is: Describe without evaluating. Report - don't judge. Leave the evaluation of the child to him.

Dear Readers:

Is that not a nice winter day? March has surely gone out like a lion.

The church service on Sunday evening was conducted by Rev. J. Burgess and Mrs. Burgess. We were pleasantly surprised by having Heather Bowron (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bowron) sing us two solos which were really nice. Everyone present really appreciated it very much and were delighted that she will be coming again. Thank you Heather.

It's nice to have Edna Cowan back after a two week visit with relatives in Scarborough.

Lorne Brohm and Cecil were here on Monday to see their father Charlie Brohm who is still quite ill.

We had the Silvert's people here on Monday. Everyone seemed glad to have them.

I am sorry to report Mrs. Simmons and Helen Brown on the sick list and hope they will soon be well again.

I am glad to say Winnie Barnum is feeling much better and able to be out and around. She had her son Terry from Haliburton and her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Cameron of Peterborough to visit with her on the weekend.

Our movies on Monday night were "Sail Away" and "Ponies of Miklaengi". They were quite enjoyable.

Mrs. Shuyler is home again after a lengthy stay in hospital. We are glad to see her feeling better.

George and Jean Hewitt came to call on folks Monday.

Our service Tuesday morning was conducted by Captain Thoms from Kinmount Anglican Church.

When it comes to doing something for somebody, some folk stop at nothing.

Intended for last week

Hi Readers!

Our past week started Sunday evening with service in the chapel conducted by Mr. and Mrs. J. Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and on Tuesday morning by Rev. Kent of the Baptist Church.

The movies Monday evening were Kinmount Fall Fair and Beautiful Scenery of British Columbia. They were enjoyed very much.

On Thursday the ladies from Maple Lake brought the goodies for our tea party, and believe me, they were good.

Fun and fitness seemed a lot of fun this time with Mrs. Jenkins (better known to her friends as 'Finney') won the basketball game. Well done Finney!

We are glad to see Winnie Barnum much better also to see Mrs. Casey home from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nesbitt called on friends in Hyland Crest on Sunday.

Charlie Brohm had a visit with his son Cecil.

Mrs. Simmons had her daughter in several times during the week. It sure is nice that the residents can have their families in to visit them.

Craft is the order of the day here, getting ready for our summer bazaar; just finished a cute quilt with four bears on it.

We are pleased to see Ruby Graham back on the job. We are all pleased to see Edna Cowan back after a two week visit with her relatives in the city.

Guests for Tessa Davis on Saturday afternoon were her daughter-in-law Wanda and her granddaughter Autumn.

Terry Barnum called in to see his mother on Saturday.

Jean and George Hewitt were in Saturday afternoon to see folks they know at Hyland Crest.

Dora Dawson has gone for a week's stay with her friend Isobel Gibbs.

A cheerful word is never wasted, it often travels farther than we think.

Preservation topic for Tuesday meeting

With the approach of spring, members of the Minden and District Horticultural Society, like so many others, find themselves busy these days, 'planning'.

It is these members who are responsible for planting the many flower beds around the village and this does require planning.

With such a wide choice of seeds, plants shrubs, trees, etc., on the market now, it is difficult to decide on just what to plant.

Then when so many beautiful blooms appear and the tender green leaves seem so fresh, there is the wish that they could last much longer. 'Preservation' that's the word!

This will be the topic for the April meeting, 'Preservation'. Come out and listen to Elizabeth Carrell explain all this. There are various methods of preserving flowers, leaves etc., which can be used in making many beautiful items such as pictures, book marks, place cards. It is a fascinating pastime and can turn out to be an enjoyable business as well. Do come, April 7.

Members are looking forward to the bus trip to the Home and Garden Show in Toronto on April 8. Then on April 25 the Spring Seminar in Omemee is an event which several will attend. In June the Ontario Convention will be held in Kingston.

Horticulture has great variety and proves educational.

At our March meeting, an exceptionally good speaker, Rob Luke proved most interesting. He spoke of poisons which are related to Horticulture 'Home Gardening' where insect sprays are used. He spoke of the harm that can come by mixing solutions; the importance of labelling leftover solutions, what to do, what not to do in case of by accident some such incident befalls us.

Rob went on at great length and indeed in a most interesting manner telling of the ambulance service we have. The history of it, what was, what is and what great plans there are for the future. We are most fortunate in having such great speakers in our midst. So come out to the meeting on April 7 in the Courtroom - no admission - just walk in and feel at home, enjoy the program.

There will be competition for members. For the men, they will exhibit Garden Row markers. Prizes for single and also double African Violets. Arrangement 'Heralds of Spring' featuring Pussy Willows and a choice of spring flowers. This is a challenge for those who wish to compete. See you there.

P.S. Yes, there will be a Pumpkin Contest this year and also a Sunflower Contest. Pumpkin seeds available from the Society - call Gord Samells. For the sunflowers, choose your own seed.

If your car's out of shape you get rid of it, right? What if your body's out of shape?

Sunday March 29 was a great day for the Minden Figure Skating Club. An excellent show 'Trivia' and all our youngsters gave a great show. The guest skaters were all outstanding and Gary Beacom showed us his medal-winning form. We were especially pleased with the dance number done by the senior skaters. The arena was filled and everyone commented on how pleased they were with this presentation.

Paul and John Aggett attended the recent funeral of the late Roger Aggett at Dartmouth, N.S. Sincere sympathy to that family.

We note that this is Red Cross campaign time. Did you know that this is the only organization that is recognized and welcomed throughout the World in time of disaster.

Recent guests with Alice Morrison were son Craig and wife Lynn and grandson Jordan of Toronto.

All good wishes to these people who are in hospital or not well at home. Lorraine Martin, Bill Robinson and Cliff Lacey.

Colin Hewitt of Fort Frances was a recent weekend guest with his mother Joyce Hewitt.

Something I've wondered about. After taking a survey over the past 15 years in my diary, there are always one or two really bad snow storms between March 26 and April 7. Why do the snow crews put away their snowploughing equipment too early so that they are not ready?

The card games at Lochlin were postponed last week but this Tuesday night euchre will be held at Gelert Hall on April 7.

Minden and District Horticultural Society meeting will be held in the courtroom Tuesday April 7 at 7:30 with the guest speaker being Elizabeth Carrell on Preservation of Flowers and Foliage with light refreshments and everyone welcome.

Winners at Club 35 last Monday were - most lone hands Jean Randall, high lady Betty Culley and high man Bob Lewis, who also took the door prize. The other winners were Harry Randall and Edith Russell.

Got a note from Yvonne Guida which she would like me to share with you.

"Last Saturday I went to Toronto to see the movie Angel Heart starring Mickey O'Rourke and Robert De Niro (my favourite actor). I have never seen such gore in all my-life but the movie takes a strange twist at the end, which really keeps you thinking. The movie received four stars.

Then in the evening I went to the O'Keefe Centre to see Mozart's Idomeneo, starring Carol Vaness and Siegfried Jerusalem. The hall was jammed and the performance superb and the cast got an overwhelming ovation from the audience.

After the performance I went backstage and was so elated to see standing at the end of the hall (no one else seemed to have seen her) Dame Joan Sutherland, world famous Opera Diva, so I went racing down the hall and spoke with her. She was most gracious and gave me her autograph. Then I got the autograph of Carol Vaness, a beautiful girl with an equally beautiful voice who took the part of Ellettra (the story takes place in Greece on the island of Crete). I told her I had met her before and she said "In Toronto, right?" And I said "yes". So she said "You must have liked me to come back." And of course, I said I did. It was a wonderful day. The following day I went to the CN tower for lunch and then caught my bus back to Minden. A most successful weekend."

"Children now love luxury, they have bad manners and contempt for authority. They show disrespect for their elders and love chatter in place of exercise. They no longer rise when their elders enter the room, but contradict their parents, chatter in front of company, gobble up dainties, cross their legs and tyrannise their teachers." Who said that? Why, Plato in 400 B.C.!

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Bert Howe of Haliburton and also to the Uriel Moxam family on the death of his mother

Winners at the ACW card party on Thursday were most lone hands Vera Ward on a cut and others included Greta Alsop, Eleanor Pye, Lil Porter and Marg McAfee (the latter two being men's).

Sorry to hear that Toots Myles is on the sick list again. Hope you're feeling better soon.

Gwen Cox was very surprised and pleased when she received a Life Membership in the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 129 Royal Canadian Legion recently Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q. What vegetable is white and barks?

A. Collie flower

Q. When is money tired?

A. When it is spent

Q. What does a house painter do when its cold?

A. Puts on a second coat.

Q. What kind of jokes do fish tell?

A. Very finny ones.

Q. From the word 'nose'

Take the tip away

Then add it to go

Last Saturday evening (March 28) Joan and I had the honour of attending the Ladies' Auxiliary Diamond Jubilee dinner, the signing of their Articles of Faith and their honours and awards presentations. The whole evening was most impressive.

Messages of congratulation were received from Brian Mulroney, Prime Minister of Canada, David Peterson, Premier of Ontario, John Eakins, MPP and Reeve Murray Fearrey. M.P. Bill Scott attended and brought best wishes to all and presents for some of those being honoured.

Teresa Achtenberg, Immediate Past President of the Provincial Ladies Auxiliary and Provincial Third Vice President Phyllis Montemiglio assisted with the presentations. Ethel Brennan and Merv Herron, charter members of the Branch 129 Ladies Auxiliary carried in the Articles of Faith for the signatures.

Two ladies were inducted into the Over 80 Club, Becky MacLean and Hazel Walsh. Gwen Cox Zone F4 L.A. Commander was honoured with her Life Membership.

The L.A. also paid tribute to Branch 129 and surprised all branch members there by presenting President Joan with a cheque for two thousand dollars to help with the new Legion building expansion fund.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 129 are to be congratulated on such a memorable evening. L.A. president Jan Shipley was a gracious hostess, a capable M.C. and kept everything moving along smoothly.

At the Bluegrass chairmen's meeting on Tuesday night, nearly all chairmen reported that committees are formed and volunteers assigned times and duties.

Volunteers provide service

by Jim Wilkinson
Volunteer

Our community becomes stronger with the involvement of committed volunteers: the following was written by Jim Wilkinson - Dedicated Volunteer.

Have you every thought about being a volunteer for two or three hours a week? Our community organizations are in constant need of volunteers. The Haliburton County Information Centre is operating a Volunteer Registry to match the skills and interests of individuals to the organization that will most benefit.

I have been a volunteer for several years at the Haliburton County Information Centre and find it a very fulfilling experience. Also, as a former teacher, I do several hours a week as a tutor to poor readers.

You need not worry about what you can do, the training is up to the organization and they will be encouraged by your interest. Your help is needed. Give us a call and tell us about yourself and we'll investigate the most valuable location for your help. Call us or drop in and talk it over.

If you need help with your tax return, completing forms or have a question that need answering, contact the Haliburton County Information Centre in the Municipal Building, Milne Street, Minden open every Tuesday 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. or call 286-4100. Our Haliburton office situated in the Drag River municipal building Maple Ave., is open 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. daily or call 457-2733.

To have your tax return completed, please call for an appointment.

Twist and shout. Move it all about. Fitness is in. Fatness is out.

BIRTHS

HEISE: Lorne and Robin are pleased to announce the arrival of Laura Melissa Ann on March 23, 1987 at 2:08 a.m. weighing 7lb 8oz at Soldier's Memorial Hospital, Orillia. A sister for Brent, a granddaughter for Lee and Terry Weber of Scarborough and Ruth Heise of Bobcaygeon. Many thanks to Dr. Fallis and Dr. K. Philips. 4B

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks

Round two is now over and once again I'd like to thank all my friends and relatives for the well wishes, phone calls, cards and letters and goodies that helped Phil with the household duties. Certainly appreciated everything. Must mention the good care at Royal Victoria Hospital at Barrie. My love to all.

Jane Graham.

To the many relatives and friends of the late Aubrey Horsley, we wish to express our deepest appreciation for visits, cards and flowers. A special thanks to the ambulance drivers, Dr. Stephen, Rev. Edward Moll for his consoling message and the Gordon Monk Funeral Home for their thoughtful and efficient handling of the funeral.

The Horsley Family

With Deep Appreciation

I wish to thank all my friends, neighbours and relatives for the cards books flowers, prayers and good wishes, but most of all your caring and love. With all of you behind me I can't help but get better. With special thanks to Dr. Dawson and nursing staff in Minden hospital.

Cliff Lacey

IN MEMORIAM

BULL: Vera - In loving memory of a dear wife who passed away April 6, 1974. It broke my heart to lose you But you didn't go alone For part of me went with you,

The day God called you home,
No farewells were ever spoken,

No time to say 'Goodbye'
You were gone before I knew it,

And only God knows the reason why.

Sadly missed
Andy

THIS TRACTOR IS ONE IN A MILLION.

In 130 countries around the world, more than a million Kubota tractors have been sold. In fact, Kubota is the biggest selling tractor under 40 horsepower.

There are some good reasons why. High on the list is Kubota's rugged and reliable diesel engine. It comes standard with every tractor Kubota builds.

Also important is advanced engineering. Kubota tractors come with features often found on the best engineered automobiles. For example, fuel-injection and turbo-charging.

Kubota is just as proud of another new idea, no-frills utility tractors that go back to basics.

So if you're looking for a tractor from small to large, you really ought to take a look at a Kubota. A million people can't be wrong.

KUBOTA BUILT TO LAST!
